

LEHIGH EMERGENCY SERVICES TRAINING ACADEMY

G489 Management of Spontaneous Volunteers TtT

This will be the Train the Trainer session.

The purpose of this course is to introduce the skills and planning considerations that are required to manage large numbers of people who are not affiliated with an experienced relief organization, but who want to help in disasters. These “spontaneous volunteers” are generally well motivated and sincerely want to help, but if their efforts and resources are not coordinated effectively, their presence may be counterproductive and an added strain on the disaster area.
